We have 2 XM radios in our household. We listen to it in our home as well as in our vehicles. Since we travel frequently and at all times of the year it is important for us to keep up with the weather and traffic conditions. The XM has helped us avoid snarled traffic, skirt nasty weather patterns, and arrive at our destination safely and in a timely fashion. My family chose to purchase an XM Satellite Radio and chose to pay a monthly fee for the service because it is far superior to anything we were listening to on AM/FM Radio. I for one do not appreciate the NAB lobbying to have the local weather and traffic reports removed from XM's lineup. If we had found anything comparable on AM/FM we would not have needed to buy the XM.
